I. Information about self-testing of school students using the PoC antigen test to detect a Covid-19 infection at school

From April 19, 2021, schools in Baden-Württemberg will provide school students for whom in-person classes will take place with a rapid antigen test for the coronavirus twice a week. This is based on the regulations in the Coronavirus Ordinance of the State of Baden-Württemberg (CoronaVO) and the Federal Infection Protection Act that applies from April 23, 2021. There is an indirect obligation for students to undergo testing at their schools. In this case, there is a ban on entry to and attendance at in-person classes for those individuals who cannot present any evidence of a negative test for or immunity to the SARS-CoV-2 virus; these students must then rely on the distance learning the school will provide. The only students exempt from this entry and attendance ban are those participating in intermediate and final examinations or in school performance assessments required for their grades. However, the untested students will take their exams or performance assessments while maintaining spatial distancing from the tested students as required. In addition, students are exempt from this entry and attendance ban who can show documentary evidence of being fully vaccinated for at least 14 days or can prove that they have recovered from a coronavirus infection that occurred no more than six months previously.

Proof of testing can be provided as follows.

- By taking a test provided by the school or
- By presenting the certificate from another provider for a negative result of a rapid test in accordance with §4a of the CoronaVO, whereby it must be submitted on the day the school arranges the test and the test it is based on is no older than 48 hours,
- For students at elementary schools, special education and counseling centers with a focus on mental development, physical and motor development or special needs education and counseling centers with other focal points of support and these courses, as well as for children in elementary school remedial classes and kindergartens by submitting self-certification of their legal guardians after properly carrying out testing using a sample form provided by the Ministry of Culture.

The directed self-testing provided by the school takes place under the organizational powers and responsibility of the school (also under data protection law). The school itself determines the time and place for the tests, with a view to alternation as required. The schools provide students and the staff working at the schools who can take part in in-person classes with two tests in every school week. Also in the case of alternating classes, two tests must be carried out every school week.

The schools will also determine those individuals who will direct and supervise the testing. These individuals may, for example, include teachers or (voluntary) assistants from aid or ambulance services. These individuals involved are obliged to maintain confidentiality with the exception of legal guardians, the school board and the health department. The self-test result is disclosed to the students in question and their legal guardians in a way in which no one other than the individual conducting the test is aware of it.

Students will receive a record from the school if the test result is positive. (see § 5 of the ordinance of the Ministry of Social Affairs on the isolation of individuals infected with the SARS-CoV-2 virus or suspected of being sick and people in their households, as follows: CoronaVO isolation, retrievable at <https://www.baden-wuerttemberg.de/de/service/aktuelle-infos-zu-corona/uebersicht-corona-verordnungen/coronavo-absonderung/>).

In the event of a positive test result, the student may no longer take part in in-person classes. Instead, he or she must go immediately into isolation at home in accordance with § 3 paragraph 2 CoronaVO isolation. The school will inform the student's legal guardians immediately, who will pick up the student as soon as possible. Until then, the student must be supervised in an appropriate room. With the legal guardians' permission, the student may also go home independently. The other obligations that apply during isolation are also included in the CoronaVO for isolation; the regulations in relation to the end of isolation with a positive rapid test are based on § 3 paragraph 4 of the designated ordinance.

The school is also obliged in the event of a positive test result in accordance with §§ 6 para. 1 clause 1 no. 1 lit. t, 8 para. 1 no. 2 and 7, in conjunction with §§ 36 para. 1 no.1 and 33 no. 3 of the Infection Protection Act (IfSG), to report this to the health department responsible for the tested individual's place of residence by notifying the further information referred to in § 9 paragraph number 1 and 3 paragraph 2 IfSG. The health authorities can then within the scope of their responsibilities make further regulations that go beyond the obligations arising from the CoronaVO isolation or that deviate from it.

If health certificates such as proof of vaccinations or medical reports have to be inspected by the school in accordance with the applicable Corona Ordinance, lists of names for the submitted evidence will be kept. The purposes of processing these are based on the respectively applicable Corona Ordinance and the Infection Protection Act. Depending on the infection rate, the lists will be deleted or destroyed in accordance with data protection laws at the end of the school year and no later than the regulation they are based on has been repealed. Unless a transfer to third parties such as to the authorities is expressly required by law, no transfer will take place outside the school. Knowledge of these lists is only conveyed to individuals for whose tasks this knowledge is required. You can find further information about your rights in connection with the processing of personal data below under the rights of data subjects.

Please note that the rapid tests do not provide 100% certainty. A test result may turn out positive, even though no acute infection with SARS-Cov-2 actually exists. On the other hand, even if there is an actual infection with the designated virus, the test result may be negative.

School students who wish to take advantage of the school's test program in accordance with the Corona Ordinance of the State of Baden-Württemberg, because this is required in order to attend in-person classes, must first declare their willingness to undergo testing by the school. In the case of underage students, the declaration of their legal guardians is required. We request that you submit this declaration using the form below.
